

System Starter Package

SkillWise Marketing is proud to announce the release of its professional System version of Developing Manual Handling Skills.

Now no trainer or workplace can be without a professional ready-to-go system of training on this important topic. No more scrambling through an armada of PDF's, time consuming searching of the internet or phoning colleagues to ask for advice.

This version of Developing Manual Handling Skills is packaged for the business or organisation that wishes to use it to roll out an "in-house" system of training.

All that you need is a System Starter Package, which contains enough Participants Handbooks to train your first 10 participants, and then purchase a supply of more handbooks as your training proceeds.

As a System User, SkillWise Marketing supports system users through its free help service. Expert staff are available, on a priority basis, for ongoing assistance with customisation and application issues.

To help with your decision making we have found it useful to document (PDF's available on web) two scenarios that show how these materials can be used to implement an "in-house" system of training.

MasterMovers is based on a furniture removal business. Tugalonga College is based on a successful vocational training program.

Any professional using The System can expect to tap into a knowledge base distilled from over 30 subject experts.

System Starter Package Contents:

- A, 50 Minute, 4 part, modularised, broadcast quality DVD
- 1, Comprehensive Trainer's Guide
- 10, Participant's Handbooks
- User Support Certificate

The System version is the ideal tool for any busy trainer.

It has a place in every workplace or training institution!
